- Implementing claims databases to track open & closed files, and loss reserves
- Delivering assistance in observing physical inventories
- Providing support monitoring the progress of reconstruction projects
- Establishing loss accounting protocols
- Creating document management and retention assistance programs
- Expediting initial loss assessments for advanced payments
- Supplying on-going, periodic status reports and final reports
- Offering consulting advice on smaller claims

Is your insurance business equipped and ready to handle unexpected, large-scale catastrophes including hurricanes, floods, earthquakes, mudslides, tornadoes, forest fires, civil conflicts, wars, pandemics or terrorists' acts? Have you incorporated comprehensive plans to deliver quick and skilled response to businesses suffering major losses due to these and other types of disasters?

Matson, Driscoll & Damico, forensic accounting and investigative experts understand the insurance industry's need for rapid response to settle resultant claims. In fact, MD&D is one of Canada's leading investigative and forensic firms providing a broad range of accounting services to the insurance community. Their worldwide locations deliver effective coverage through a system of strategic and well-planned responses by experienced professionals within MD&D, and from specialized partner services.

Utilizing their extensive experience in dealing with CAT claims, MD&D can provide educational programs for clients needing catastrophe training.

They can mobilize their own Catastrophe Team (CAT) to secure a Command Centre as close to the affected area as possible. MD&D can set up pre-developed or customized systems and teams to effectively manage a large number of claims at the regional, national and global levels. In fact, the firm has played a supporting role in catastrophes including 9/11, the Asian Tsunami, and hurricanes Ivan, Katrina and Rita – among others.

MD&D's CAT teams are formed from staff and disaster-specific partners chosen for their specialized skills and experience. By being central to the catastrophe, adjusters can visit or easily access the CAT Command Centre by simply dialing 1-866-MDD-2631.

MD&D's CAT Response Plans are constantly and consistently evaluated and updated to appropriately reflect client's current and future needs. To ensure you have an appropriate level of preparedness, or in the event of a disaster, call MD&D – the catastrophe specialists.
