WORK EXPERIENCE

Markus received his University degree from Munich in July 1992, began his career with Matson, Driscoll & Damico in 1993, completed his professional accounting qualifications in England in 1996 and became partner in the London office in 2002. His professional background also includes auditing, banking, publishing and the automotive industry.

His language skills in German and Spanish have frequently been utilised on claim audits in Spain, Italy, Holland, Germany, Austria and Switzerland and across South America. Markus has also worked on cases in the Middle East, Africa and South and North America, primarily in the evaluation of consequential losses, whether under insurance coverage or litigation support.

Markus has held numerous seminars and workshops in the UK and Germany, Spain, Switzerland and Norway for the onshore and offshore energy insurance sector, property and liability insurance carriers, loss adjusters and the legal profession. He has given speeches to Pan European Insurance associations on many Business Interruption related topics.
